Insurance Co-Payment Policy

As a courtesy and convenience for our patients, this office agrees to accept insurance co-payment as a means of prearrangement for payment of the orthodontic fee. We must however, have agreement and understanding of our policy regarding this issue.

The patient or responsible party must take responsibility for confirming eligibility for orthodontic benefits. This can be done by having the responsible party call their designated representative to determine eligibility and amounts of coverage. It would be suggested that the responsible party request a written authorization from their insurance carrier. Another means of doing this would be for our office to submit a pre-treatment authorization on the patient's behalf. This takes more time since we would be waiting on return mail.

The responsible party may also choose to begin treatment before confirming eligibility for orthodontic benefits by signing the following statement.

I understand that I am responsible for the full orthodontic fee for _____ regardless of the possible insurance benefits payable. I choose to make financial arrangements using my anticipated insurance benefits for co-payment. I further understand that in the event the insurance determines that there is reduced or no benefits, then I would need to revise my current financial arrangement so that the full payment for the treatment fee will be satisfied in the estimated active treatment time frame.
